ATTACK WAGED ON JUAREZ FIERCEST OF THE REVOLT

Rebels Claim Town After All-Day Battle—Five Killed on American Side and People are Terrorized—Renew Attack Today.

El Paso, Texas, May 9.—What was perhaps the fiercest battle of the Mexican revolution was fought at Juarez, across the Rio Grande today, but without result. Both Federals and insurrectos are resting on their arms ready to resume the battle at daybreak.

At least five persons have been killed on the American side of the line since the skirmish began yesterday and about 15 have been wounded, while the loss on the battlefield is variously estimated at from 30 to 60 dead on both sides and about 75 to 100 wounded.

Fifteen insurrectos wounded already have been brought to the American side, but more are believed to be laying far within the town. General Navarro agreed at 7 o'clock tonight to stop the firing while the insurrecto wounded were removed.

The Federals has adequate medical facilities and are caring for their wounded within the town.

All the day the battle raged, the insurrectos swarming through the streets of Juarez and meeting the heavy fire of the Federals with an equally vigorous volley of musketry.

Rebels Claim the Town.

The rebels claim the town tonight. While it is true that they actually control more city territory than do the Federals, the position of the government forces is so well fortified that it is well night impregnable.

The strength of the Federal position is largely due to the fact that the rebels are scattered. If the rebels were lined up in battle formation, they probably could storm the Federal strongholds, which apparently consists of six places; namely, the barracks, the church, the theatre, the school house, a hotel and the customs house.

But the insurrectos suspect that detachment of nearly 300 Federals with a machine gun is concealed in some unknown place in town and they are hesitating to move in close formation, for fear of a flank attack.

Rebels Force Fighting.

The rebels forced the fighting today in the face of the deadly fire of the Federal machine guns. They dared not gather in too great number for an attack on the Federals because the artillery men of General Navarro many times demonstrated the accuracy of their range when they shelled adobe houses, behind which insurrectos had sought protection a half mile from Juarez, while sulking along the river front.

General Navarro is said to have mined most of the houses in Juarez and when he gets word of an insurrecto gathering it is believed it will be able to inflict a terrible slaughter.

Many deeds of bravery on the part of insurrectos were witnessed from the American side of the line today. An actual view of the fighting in the streets of Juarez showed the insurrectos as more than holding their own.

Juarez Set on Fire.

The sun beat fiercely on the battlefield, and late today a fire, started by the insurrectos, filled the streets with clouds of suffocating smoke. The fire still is smouldering tonight, the postoffice and several adjoining buildings being ruins.

The light from the fire tonight gives the rebels an occasion glimpse of the church where the Federals are cooped up. The cracking of rifles is intermittent.

Juarez looks as if a hurricane had struck it. Wires are suspended from jagged telegraph poles and the streets are filled with plaster, adobe debris, window glass and splinters. Signs and awnings are punctured and torn. Many a brick building has a hole in it and not a few of the characteristic adobe houses of the town are without roofs.

The terrorized inhabitants were under cover all day, and many were injured by the hail of bullets. The town itself is quiet tonight, except for occasional rifle shots. Bullets continued to sing across the Rio Grande, to the American side, but the casualties were fewer than yesterday, owing to the efforts of the United States troops who have kept sight-seers several hundred yards from the river.

There were many sorties today during the battle, the rebels maneuvering to draw the Federals from their fortifications. The mortars of the government troops kept up a deafening fire for several hours but without any effect other than to prevent the rebels from swooping down on the Federals from the foothills west of Juarez.

Tossed Dynamite Bombs.

The insurrecto artillery proved of little value and the revolutionists wrought more destruction while within Juarez by tossing dynamite bombs about, wherever they thought Federals were concealed, than with their cannon. One of these bombs is believed to have set the postoffice on fire.

Various reports were current during the day that the rebel chiefs, as well as Federals, had been killed or wounded. For a long time it was believed General Baribaldi, of the insurrectos, had been injured, but tonight he was seen among his men apparently unhurt.

General Pasqual Orocozo and Colonel Villa, two rebel chiefs, are commanding the movement of the rebels who are gathered about the church and the bull pen, while Colonel Blanco with about 300 men has taken up a position in the shubbery near the foot hills, ready to meet flank movements.

Madero Watches Battle.

General Francisco I. Madero, Jr., leader of the rebels, observed the progress of the battle from a distance. He used powerful field glasses and not infrequently gave shouts of exultation at the advance of the insurrectos. When a detachment of insurrectos ran across the plain in direct fire of the Federals to effect a sortie, which might draw the Federals from the church which they had held, General Madero became visible excited. He was eager to go to the front and thrust himself into the battle, but his staff officers restrained him.

The insurrectos tonight control the river bank and are aiding refugees, especially women and children, in reaching places of safety. They have taken possession of many stores and are procuring food in the houses, where they are quartered themselves.

May Capture Town Today.

While General Navarro is said to have sufficient ammunition and provisions to hold out at least a week against the kind of attack the rebels made today, the rebels, it is said, are able to harass Navarro for that length of time.

The rebels made considerable progress today, however, and it would cause no surprise if they captured the town in another day's fighting.

Some of the enthusiastic rebel political leaders in El Paso, who thought that Juarez had been taken sent communications to General Navarro suggesting that he surrender the town in the interest of humanity.

The old general smiled when he received these requests and continued to give orders to his staff. General Navarro was reported to have been seen walking about the streets, directing the fighting, but insurrectos deny this.

Members of the insurrecto army are known to be watching for the Federal leader. Though they have orders not to shoot him, they wil try to take him prisoner. They tried hard today to find the General and tonight one detachment of insurrectos is panning to capture the Federal commander tomorrow.

Will Fight to Death.

Mexico City, May 9.—"I will die before I will surrender. So long as I have soldiers to defend my position in Juarez I will not deliver the city to the rebels."

With these words General Navarro today closed his report to the Department of War on the battle at Juarez. He declared this to be the message returned to Madero in reply to his demand for the surrender of the city.

Placing all confidence in the aged warrior, government officers were yet confident tonight that he would succeed in holding the city until the arrival of the columns of rabgo from Terrazas and Cordillo Escaudero from Mulato. Should the garrison fail to withstand the attack, however, the government holds that the taking of the place would be but a minor incident after all.

They believe that the advancing reinforcements will reach Juarez long before the rebels could be in condition to fight again and that the place would then be re-taken.

While residents of the capital continued to betray the keenest interest in devolpments at Juarez, their attention this afternoon was divided by the announcement that a tentative peace pact had been entered into by the government and the rebels in the State of Guerrero. Professor Francisco Figueroa, brother of Amrosio Fuegeroa, ranking rebel leader in the south, who captured Iguala last week, today left the capital to tell him of his success in negotiating terms. Professor Figuetoa is confident that his brother and his followers will accept them.

The rebels under the agrement are to retain control of Iguala and they will have a full share in the conduct of the local affairs in their State including the selection of a new governor. On their part the rebels promise to disband and return home. They also agree that they wil use all efforts to suppress brigandage.

The rebels do not consent to forsake the Madero movement, however, and reserve their right to fight in his name should he march southward and demand their services.

While this agreement appears not

MEXICO SITUATION IS NOW ALARMING

President Hears Revolution Has Spread Throughout the Republic.

AS VIEWED IN WASHINGTON

President Taft Again Gives His Views Regarding Intervention — Talks of Position of Other Nations.

Washington, May 9.—There were enough developments in the Mexican tangle in Washington today to complicate still more a situation that even conservative advisers of President Taft are now willing to admit is most alarming. From American consuls scattered through Mexico and from other sources of information, the President and the State Department heard today that the revolution is spreading and from the news dispatched and Col. Steever in command of the United States troops at El Paso, they received bulletins at short intervals telling of the fight that is endangering American lives on this side of the boundary.

Senator Stone, of Missouri, in an impassioned speech, urged intervention in Mexico and declared that Americans were being "murdered." Representatives Sulzer, of New York, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, gave out an interview reiterating his convention that the United States must not intervene. Col. Steever informed the President that he would permit the wounded of both the Federal and insurrecto armies to be brought into the United States. The cabinet at its regular session discussed Mexico at some length, but decided to keep on "standing pat" on the objection of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson it was decided not to permit American owned cattle now in Mexico to be brought across the Rio Grande.

All Mexico in Revolt.

From Mexico City the President learned that with the exception of two or three States, all Mexico is more or less involved in the revolution. At the same time Foreign Minister De La Barra was quoted as being confident that peace will be made between the Diaz government and Madero and that afterwards separate negotiations will be carried on with the other States in which the other revolutionary leaders are in command. Consul Haskell, at Salina Cruz, down in the southeastern tip of the Republic on the Pacific ocean, telegraphed that the situation was worse in the vicinity of Tonala, which lies 80 miles eastward in the State of Chiapias. Large forces of revolutionists are operating there; one American plantation has been burned and other American property threatened.

The State Department promptly called upon the Mexican foreign office for protection to Americans in that part of Mexico.

As Viewed by Other Nations.

One bit of information given out at the White House tonight showed that European governments are apparently willing to give Mexico an opportunity to solve her own problem. The President told callers that so far no foreign governments have suggested that the United States take action to protect American and other foreign property and that if this nation intended to live by the Monroe Doctrine it must maintain order. Italy is the only European nation that has seemed concerned about the matter at all. Italy merely asked several months ago what steps this government would take to protect its own citizens in Mexico. France, Germany and England, the President understood, were handling the situation from their own viewpoint through their representatives in Mexico.

Mr. Sulzer's statement was forthcoming because of the excitement he feared would result from the killing of Americans in El Paso yesterday. "Mexico," said he, "is a friendly sister Republic. She should be treated as such. Any invasion of her sovereign rights by the armed forces of the United States will be an unjustifiable act of war, entailing responsibilities beyond the conception of the finite mind, and giving the lie to all our protestations of peace and friendship for our sister Republics on the Western Hemisphere. Let us maintain peace and keep out of Mexico."

Word From Major Duncan.

Major Gen. Duncan, at San Antonio, transmitted the following telegram from Col. Steever, commanding at El Paso, to President Taft late this afternoon:

"Am permitting wounded of Federals and insurrectos to be gathered up by Americans, who volunteered, and brought to the United States. Wounded mostly insurrectos. This is done for humanitarian purposes, although, I realize it relieves their comrades from incumbrances. If there is objection to my course wire at once." Gen. Duncan approved the action.

Gen. Madero telegraphed to the insurrecto junta here that the insurgent forces had gained possession of the greater part of Juarez and that their losses were small. Gen. Madero said the imprudence of Federal volunteers precipitated the battle which has been raging in Juarez all of today.

CAUSED A FLURRY IN COTTON

Buying of Frank B. Hayne Threw New Orleans Exchange Into Excitement Yesterday—Corner in May Rumored.

New Orleans, May 9.—Frank B. Hayne, the well known cotton bull leader, threw the New Orleans Cotton Exchange into a fever of excitement 20 minutes before the final gong today when he offered to purchase the entire stock of cotton in New Orleans at 15.48.

Mr. Hayne jumped into the ring, pushed aside his brokers and began crying his bids.

"5,000 bales of May at 45," he yelled.

"I bid 46 for 1,000 bales of May."

"Fifty thousand bales at 49."

Pandemonium reigned for a few minutes and the days of the great "Sully" pool were recalled. Again and again the big bull leader bellowed forth his challenge to the bears. In the excitement traders appeared dazed and those who a few minutes before were offering to sell May around 15.40 were slow to accept the increased prices.

Finally Mr. Hayne yelled, "I will take the entire stock of cotton in New Orleans at 15.48."

When the gong sounded it was estimated that Mr. Hayne had bought perhaps 5,000 bales. But his sudden and startling move had the bears guessing and May along with the other active months, closed at the advance.

There are whispers here of a big corner in May cotton, but those believed to be in the deal refuse to talk.

Mr. JNO. H. POPE DEAD.

Resident of Fayetteville found Dead at Roseboro.

Fayetteville, N. C., May 9.—The Observer this afternoon says:

"Mr. John H. Pope, a resident of Fayetteville, was found dead in the room of a boarding house at Roseboro at 9:15 o'clock last night. Mr. E. H. Filyaw, a boarder in the house, reports that Pope complained on yesterday of a severe headache and nervousness, and accordingly consulted a physician, who prescribed a certain mixture, with strict instructions to take only a teaspoonful, diluted in water, every hour. Mr. Filyaw went to Mr. Pope's room last night about 9 o'clock to learn how he was. Receiving no answer to a knock, he opened the door and went in. Seeing that Pope was not in bed, he turned to leave the room when he saw Pope lying huddled up on the floor undressed. Upon examination it was found that he was dead. A physician, who was summoned, stated that he had been dead about an hour. He had evidently fallen from a chair, which was near the body.

"From the amount of the mixture left in the bottle, it is thought that Mr. Pope must have taken a very heavy overdose of it, instead of the diluted teaspoonful prescribed, which may have caused death.

"Mr. Pope was a well known carpenter in this city, and was engaged in carpenter work in Roseboro at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, and also by his mother, one brother and three sisters, who live at Cotton, N. C.

"The remains will be brought to Fayetteville on the train from Wilmington at 9:30 tonight, and from here taken to Cotton for burial."

BALLOONISTS RESCUED.

Fell in Delaware River—Had a Thrilling Escape.

Philadelphia, May 9.—Blown over the waters of the bay and heading rapidly for the Atlantic ocean, two men and a woman, passengers in the basket in the balloon Philadelphia II., were rescued today by the tug Mary J. Walker, and towed up the Delaware river. The accupants of the basket were Dr. Thomas E. Eldridge, president of the Philadelphia Aeronautical Recreation Society; John Noggle, president of the Penn Chemical Company, and Mrs. Ada Turner Kurtz, all of this city. With the balloon still 150 feet in the air, they were towed to Delaware City where a landing was finally affected after the passengers had been drenched and nearly drowned when the basket sank beneath the waters of the bay. The ascensions, the first of the season, was made from this city at 9:30 this morning. The rescue occurred late this afternoon.

FAVORS INVASION AS LAST RESORT

Senator Stone Urges Protection For Americans Along Border.

DECLARES TAFT IS BLUFFING

Senators Bacon and Works Disagree and Praise Action of President —Warm Controversy in Senate.

Washington, May 9.—The danger to American lives on the border as a result of the revolution in the Mexican republic was again the subject of sharp controversy in the Senate. The Lilling of several citizens in El Paso, Texas, as the result of yesterday's battle at Juarez was the immediate provocation of the controversy.

Senator Stone again urged the use of American troops to protect Americans and changing his attitude toward the President's course practically charged him with playing a game of bluff in sending the troops to the front.

Senators Bacon and Works, of California, replied commending the attitude of the President and advocating a conservative course. Mr. Bacon contended for the right of the Mexican combatants to pursue their war even though American lives should be incidentally endangered.

Mr. Stone based his remarks on the Associated Press reports of the killing of Americans.

Declaring that apparently this government intends not to lift a hand for the protection of American citizens in their own homes, he expressed apprehension lest the bullets of yesterday's battle be followed today by Shrapnel and Cannister. He said he had not proposed an invasion of Mexico with the object of remaining, but merely to dispatch a force across the line sufficient to accomplish the end in view and then retire.

The Missouri Senator declared that the President was allowing himself to be bound by red tape; that in previously endorsing the President's dispatch of troops to the border he had supposed that the President's step was taken in the interest of Americans that it was not a mere game of bluff." The President, he thought, must have had a more serious purpose in mind at the start, but manifestly a change had come over the spirit of his dream.

"What poteat and mighty influences have operated to produce that change I do not know and cannot tell," he said. Mr. Stone then referred to the recent talk about world peace and said the President has become one of its chief apostles.

"I am for peace—not war, as much so as any man," he contended.

"But the millenium has not yet dawned upon the world. We have not yet reached that period of progress when we can play the hand that holds the sword by merely waving the white flower of peace. We have not and we cannot stop the murder of our women and children in Texas and Arizona by standing aloof under the white flag and giving notice to the world that we will not under any circumstances strike a blow in resistance or for self-protection."

Mr. Stone said this inaction "smacked too much of something he did not like to name." He continued:

"I am more sensative about the lives of American men, women and children, peaceably pursuing the even tenor of their way on their own soil and about their own homes, than I am about the pride and sensibilities of other men who have on their hands the innocent blood of our people. I would at all hazards defend and protect our people against such monstrous outrages as those at Douglas and El Paso, let the consequences be what they might; and hence I appeal to the Committee on Foreign Relations to at once consider the resolution I offered and make some recommendation as to our duty in the premises."

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, responded that Mr. Stone's proposed course would plunge this country into immediate war; that the Mexican government has a right to assert its authority, even though in doing so it should endanger the lives of persons on this side of the Inter-National line. Both he and Mr. Works, of California, declared that intervention to protect a few lives on the border would probably mean the sacrifice of a far greater number of lives of Americans in the interior of Mexico.

The United States could not well send troops into Mexico without taking one side or the other of the pending conflict and Mr. Bacon contended that at any event the adoption of Mr. Stone's resolution would be a declaration of war.

Taking up Mr. Bacon's contention, Mr. Stone drew the inference that fear of war deters the American government from proper steps for the protection of its own people.

He admitted there had been no intentional sacrifice of American lives as the result of the American battles, but declared that the killing of American citizens have been equivalent to deliberate intention.

STATE BUILDING COMMISSION MET

Raleigh, N. C., May 9.—The State Building Commission for the erection of the $250,000 fire-proof State administration building, for which bonds were provided by the recent Legislature, organized here today, with the election of Hon. Ashley Horne, of Clayton, as chairman, and William E. Springer, Wilmington, as secretary.

There was a lengthy conference by the commissioners with Governor Kitchin and the members of the Council of State for a thorough review of the work that is ahead of the commission. It was found that State Treasurer B. R. Lacy has already advertised for the bids for the $250,000 bond issue, the bids to be opened July 1st and that he has also arranged for a small loan to meet any expenses of the building commission pending the sale of the bonds. All members of the Commission were here for the initial meeting—Col. Horne, Mr. Springer, Gen. J. S. Carr, Durham; J. Elwood Cox, High Point; J. A. Long, Roxboro; A. S. Rascoe, Bertie county; W. L. Parsons, Rockingham.

Raleigh, N. C., May 9.—The State Building Commission at the afternoon session today appointed a subcommission consisting of Chairman Ashley Horne, Secretary W. E. Springer, J. A. Long, of Roxboro, and J. Elwood Cox, of High Point, to look especially into the question of location of the proposed new fire-proof administration building, and recommended a clerk for the Commission to be in charge of the Raleigh office and other matters. This sub-commission meets here again Saturday and will make recommendations to the full Commission at a meeting to be called within two weeks.

Major J. C. Hemphill, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, will be the orator tomorrow here for the Memorial Day celebration. There will be a dinner served to the old soldiers on the lawn and then the procession will move to the Confederate cemetery for the address. The A. & M. cadets will take part. The local military company has always taken part heretofore, but it was not invited this time. There is a report, many refusing to believe it, however, that the reason they were not invited this year was because the company took part in the Federal Memorial day celebration last year.

Four negro prisoners escaped last night from the Wake county convict camp. Their terms ranged from one year to 18 months. They contrived to break out of the stockade and evade the guards on duty for the night.

Governor Kitchin and Commissioner of Agriculture Graham went this afternoon to Statesville where the Governor will deliver the Memorial address tomorrow. During the afternoon he and Commissioner Graham will inspect the Iredell State Test Farm near Statesville.

J. W. Reynolds was here today from Newport News to have a requisition from the Governor of Virgina honored by Governor Kitchin for Edward McNeill, who is wanted in Newport News for burglary and jail breaking. He is a negro and is now in custody in Fayetteville.

The Wake County Good Roads Improvement Council was formed here today with Dr. R. H. Lewis chairman and W. A. Cooper secretary. A resolution was passed by the council calling on the Wake commissioners to order an election throughout the county to be held August 31st, on the question of the issuance of $300,000 bonds for road improvement and stipulating that there be a new registration for the bond election. There was also a resolution that the council proceed at once with the organization of township and precinct good roads councils, these to be gotten in working order in time to help along the campaign for the good roads bonds.

Sixty-Eighth Annual Session of Grand Lodge of North Carolina.

NEARLY THREE HUNDRED THERE

Ready for Busy Session in Winston—Preliminary Work Yesterday and Last Night—Mr. Jones Remembered—Notes.

(By Henry Arnold Dennis.)

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 9.—The 68th annual session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., of North Carolina, opened here this afternoon with about 300 delegates and members present. The city is decorated in a gay style for the visitors and almost every store window bears some emblem of the order. But very little work was done this afternoon except the conferring upon 159 delegates the Grand Lodge degree.

A telegram of condolence was sent to Grand Treasurer Richard J. Jones, of Wilmington. Mr. Jones is sick with a severe case of lagrippe and was unable to attend the meeting. He has been grand treasurer of the grand lodge of North Carolina for 56 years, barring perhaps four or five years, during which he held other offices of trust. Mr. William L. Smith, of Wilmington, was appointed Grand Treasurer pro tem. for the session.

The address of welcome was delivered by Hon. G. H. Hastings, a past grand of Salem Lodge No. 36, of this city, and was responded to by Mr. C. O. McMichael, of Wentworth. Fraternal communications were received from the local chapters of the Eagles and the Juniors.

Mayor Brown and Dr. Bronson extended an invitation to the Grand Lodge to attend in a body the Memorial Day exercises tomorrow. This invitation was accepted but on account of press of business an invitation for a trolley ride over the city was declined.

Grand Master Frank D. Hackett, of North Wilkesboro, was presented with a handsome wreath of flowers by Mr. W. S. Sheppard, of this city. It was presented in well chosen words by Dr. L. B. McBrayer, of Asheville.

It was moved and carried that the Grand Lodge adjourn sine die at the morning session Thursday.

At tonight's session the class of children from the Odd Fellows' Orphan Home at Goldsboro, gave a short ainment. The first number on the programme was "That Noble Band of Odd Fellows," written by Henry Arnold Dennis, a former child in the home.

The following past grand masters are present: B. H. Woodell, grand secretary, Raleigh; Junius Slocumb, Goldsboro; C. B. Edwards, trustee of Orphan Home, Raleigh; R. W. Murray, Greensboro; M. W. Jacobi, trustee of the Orphan Home, Wilmington; J. F. Griffith, Winston; L. B. McBrayer, Asheville; Thomas M. Stephens, Durham; Perrin Busbee, Raleigh, and P. H. Williams, of Elizabeth City, both grand representatives to the sovereign grand lodge.

OHIO SENATE REBUKED.

House Passed Bill to Repeal the Immunity Clause.

Columbus, O., May 9.—As a rebuke to the Senate for appointing a committee to investigate bribery charges made against Senators, there was introduced and passed unanimously in the House late today a bill to repeal the immunity clause, or that section of the statutes which provides that testimony given before a Legislature committee cannot be used in the criminal court against the witness. Representative Greeves, author of the bill, declared that the Senate was trying to whitewash itself, and that it was up to the House to act quickly. Floor Leader Langdon took the same view, and the bill went through with a whirl.

A feature of the grand jury's sessions today was talked by Judge Kinkaid, who impressed on the members that punishment would follow if responsibility were placed for the further escape of secrets from the grand jury room.

INFORMER ON THE STAND.

Prisoner, Like Other Camorras, Makes Sweeping Denial.

Viterbo, Italy, May 9. — Although unable to appear at the morning session, Abbatamaggio, the informer, took the witness stand again this afternoon at the trial of the members of the Camorra, and was confronted by Giuseppe de Marinis, who, like all the other prisoners, made a sweeping denial of the accusations against him.

Abbatamaggio, however, maintained his charges to the end.

Abattamaggio accused De Marinis of having engaged in the white slave traffic, while De Marinis retorted that Abbatamaggio's mother and sister were of evil repute.

The exchanges became so violent and personal that the president cleared the court room and the sitting continued behind closed doors.

DETECTIVES AT WORK?

Believed That Effort to Round Up Blind Tigers is Being Made.

It is pretty generally understood that detectives have been employed and are now at work in an effort to secure evidence against the alleged "blind tigers" in Wilmington, and that within a short time some arrests may be made. It was stated yesterday that the detectives have most likely been here for more than a week.

A person believed to be one of the detectives had his nose pretty badly hurt yesterday morning and had to go to the hospital for treatment, it was stated. It seems that two persons entered a grocery store in the southern section of the city and wanted to know if there was "anything doing," that if anything to drink could be secured. The grocer sells only groceries, and informed the two fellows that he did not sell whiskey or anything else to drink. They were skeptical, and were inclined to argue the matter. The merchant ordered the men from his store, and just before they complied one of the men opened his coat and exposed an officer's badge. They went to the next corner, where the man who exposed his badge at the first place had his nose punched, because he insisted upon getting something to drink, after the merchant told him that he did not run a "blind tiger."

It was stated yesterday that several detectives have been engaged for several weeks, but are working upon a little different plan than is generally pursued. They are supposed to be taking down the names of all persons seen to enter a near-beer saloon and also the names of those who make purchases in the places. The object in doing this would be to summons these men before the proper officer and make them tell whether or not they had purchased any whiskey or beer from certain persons. It is not known whether or not there is anything in the report, and it is given only for what it is worth.

Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., who was elected assistant city attorney Monday and whose duties are to prosecute all offenses in the Recorder's court, when committed within the city limits, or within a mile thereof, and also to appear at coroner's investigations, assumed the duties of his office yesterday morning, appearing for the prosecution in the cases before the Recorder. George Crider, a white man, was called to answer the charge of drunkenness and carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested Monday night at the union station on the charge of drunkenness and when searched at the City Hall a pistol was found on his person. He was fined $50 for carrying the pistol, while judgment was suspended in the other case. The only other defendant was Viatar Due, a foreigner, charged with drunkenness, a fine of $5 and costs being imposed.

STATE'S CENTRAL HIGHWAY

Touring Party Reach Newbern and Enthusiastic Meeting is Held—Craven Will Do Her Part. The Itinerary.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., May 9.—This has been good roads day in Craven county. The scout party of the State central highway reached here at noon today from Morehead City. In the party are H. B. Varner, president of the trustees; Dr. Arch Cheatham, trustee, of Durham county; Dr. J. Hyde Pratt, State geologist; J. A. Templeton, trustee Wake county; J. A. Wellons, trustee Johnson county; C. D. Canfield, trustee Carteret county, and R. M. Phillips, editor Daily News, Greensboro, piloted by Wm. Dunn, trustee, from Craven county.

At 1 o'clock an enthusiastic meeting was held in the court house. Short talks were made by Messrs. Varner, Cheatham, Templeton, Pratt and Wellons. About 300 representative citizen of the county were present and it was the unanimous sentiment that Craven county would do its part in completing the great Central Highway.

This afternoon some of the party were given a trip down the river on the yatcht Spartan, as guests of Mr. Wm. Dunn. Tonight a reception was tendered the party by the Chamber of Commerce in the Elks' Club. At Morehead City yesterday a most enthusiastic reception was given the party.

Six thousand dollars was raised to build the 17 miles of road to the Craven county line and work is to be started as soon as the necessary surveys can be made. Craven county has already bought six pairs of mules, wagons and machinery and will at once begin to work to complete the gaps in this county's road.

The scout party leaves Wednesday morning for Kinston.

THE GRIST SHOOTING.

Preliminary Trial at Whiteville Postponed—Arrested at Bolton.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., May 9.—The case against Robert Granger and the woman Missie Marlow, or Markley, came up for hearing Monday evening, but owing to the absence of important witnesses the hearing was postponed until Friday, May 25th. Messrs. I. B. Tucker and Lewis, Lyon & Greer represent the defense, and Messrs. Schulken, Toon & Schulken the State. Magistrates Prince, of Chadbourn, and Bruce Pierce, of Whiteville, were present to hear the evidence and decide what should be done.

We wish to correct an error published last week, when it was stated that Robert Granger is a grandson of Mr. Levi Granger, of Horry county. We are told that the prisoner is only a distant relative of Mr. Eli Granger, and who is one of the best men in South Carolina.

It is impossible to get any definite information about the trouble. It is said to be due to whiskey and a bad woman, from what we can gather. It is also denied that Bud Nobles, the young man killed, was drunk, and his friends say that Granger shot him down without cause or provocation. But Nobles belongs to a good family and is spoken well of by those who know him. His friends say that Granger was crazed with drink and on a regular shooting rampage. He first began shooting promiscously from buggy in which he and the Marlow woman were riding. He is said also to have picked a uarrel with some negroes and ran them off. He then met Bud Nobles in front of Mr. H. L. Struthers' home and fired both barrels into him. The woman assisted by way of furnishing Granger with shells, it is alleged.

This is the side of the friends of Bud Nobles.

The friends of Granger say that when he shot Nobles four men were on top of him, and he had to shoot in self-defense.

Robert Granger is a young man, apparently not more than 25 years of age. He is a plain countryman, roughly clad, without collar or necktie. The Marlow woman was also very commonly dressed, without style or taste. She is only fairly good-looking and by no means attractive. She did not seem the least bit nervous while in the court room and was seen several times to smile.

After it was decided to postpone the committal trial both prisoners were carried back to the jail.

From what we can gather, Bud Nobles was not a bad man. He was born and raised in this county, and had many warm friends. He was in the prime of life and a young farmer.

Sheriff Richardson yesterday arrested a negro man at Bolton who is wanted in Georgetown, S. C., for killing a white man. The South Carolina sheriff wired that he would come over and get his prisoner.

UP IN SENATE THURSDAY.

To Consider Direct Vote Plan Already Passed by House.

Washington, May 9.—The joint resolution providing for election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, which already has passed the House, is to be taken up in the Senate Thursday and kept before it until voted upon. Senator Borah, in charge of the resolution, served this notice today, adding that he was convinced the Senate was ready to act upon it. He said he would vigorously press the resolution, but "would respect the hours of sleeping," of Senators.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only, 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

Series of Robberies—Health Board—Other News Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., May 9.—A band of thieves operating in different sections of this city have during the past several days committed a number of robberies. Either late Saturday night or early Sunday morning the offices of the Swindell Fulford Co., the Southern Bottling Works, and the Mutual Machine Company, all situated on Water street, about one block apart, were each entered and robberies perpetrated. At the Mutual Machine Company several drawers were ransacked and valuable papers strewn over the floor, at the Southern Bottling Works entrance was effected by forcing a window in the front of the building and leaving from the rear. Nothing has been missed from this office as yet.

The County Board of Health, composed of Mr. D. T. Taylor, of this city, Dr. C. C. Jackson, of Yatesville; Mr. W. L. Vaughn, county superintendent of Public Instruction, and Mr. F. H. VonEberstein, chairman of the County Board of Commissioners met in the County Court House in this city this morning for the purpose of selecting a County Superintendent of Health for the ensuing two years. Dr. E. M. Brown, of this city, was elected to this important office, and will succeed Dr. P. A. Nicholson who successfuly filled this office for the past two years.

Officials of the United States government this morning deposited in up upper Pamlico river, 500,000 shad fish fry. These eggs will hatch in the next few months and the small shad will breed in the creeks and tributaries of the river ready for the fishermen by next season.

Quite a surprise was sprung in social circles of this city this morning when the wedding of Mr. C. A. Little and Miss Ethel B. Archbell was announced. It seems that the marriage ceremony took place on Easter Sunday, April 16th, at St. Mark's Episcopal church, in Halifax, N. C., at 2:30 o'clock, the bride and groom returning to this city on the evening train, each returning to their respective homes and keeping the wedding a profound secret until today when the secret was let out.

A. & M. COLLEGE.

Ball Game Cancelled—Improvements Under Way—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., May 9.—The baseball game scheduled to be played next Wednesday with Virginia Christian College, has been cancelled by the latter school.

A government good roads engineer will soon undertake the supervision of the construction of a model good road from the city limits of Raleigh out past the A. & M. College to the Fair Grounds.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees of the college, plans were accepted for the Animal Husbandry building to be placed to the south of the Agricultural building. It is expected that work will start on the building by the first of June and the building will be rushed to completion. This building is to be erected upon funds furnished by the State Department of Agriculture as per a bill passed in the State Legislature recently.

The State Board of Agriculture recently authorized Commissioner Graham to pay the $4,000 note outstanding on the Agricultural building at the college, which was erected about five years ago, from funds furnished by the State Department of Agriculture.

In the annual Inter-Society Senior Debate between the two literary societies at the college, Saturday night, the Leazar and the Pullen, the latter society was successful for the first time in five years. The query for debate was, "Resolved, That the U. S. Government Should Establish a General Parcels Post." J. H. Brown and F. T. Peden, of the Pullen Society had the affirmative side of the question, while J. M. Beal and G. R. Ross, of the Leazar Society, presented the negative side. The debate was hotly contested and only after a lengthy discussion were the judges able to decide upon the winning side. Geo. R. Ross was awarded the medal for the best speech. The judges were Associate Justice W. A. Hoke, of the Supreme Court; Commissioner of Agriculture, Major W. A. Graham, and Col. J. C. L. Harris, of the Raleigh bar. The officers of the debate were President, J. P. Quinnerly; secretary, D. W. Seifert; chief marshal, T. H. Stafford.

All of the excavating for the foundations of the two wings to the 1911 dormitory and nearly all of the brick have been completed. These two wings will furnish accommodations for 98 more students and when completed the 1911 dormitory will be one of the largest buildings of its kind in the South.

Whitford, T. M. Arthur, M. D. Lane, C. J. Morton, H. A. Marshall, W. E. Moore, A. D. Ward, O. H. Wetherington. One trustee is elected from each township in the county. The trustees will meet in Newbern on Friday of this week and organize. They will ask for bids for the location of the school and use every effort to open the school in the Fall of this year. Already some four or five places in the county are working for the location of the school and quite a little rivalry has already developed.

During this week Newbern will entertain some 500 visitors or more. At present Dr. C. A. Schenk with the Biltmore School of Forestry, numbering over 50 young men, are in the city. On Wednesday the North Carolina Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet in Centenary Church. Many of the delegates have already arrived and over 100 have already been provided for. On Thursday several hundred Shriners are expected here on their Eastern pilgrimage. The local Nobles are making all things in readiness and already the sands are hot. In honor of the visitors the arches and illuminations used on the streets during the bi-centennial last year will be lighted and many of the residences and business houses will be decorated, and in the city in general will present a festive appearance.

Florida Fruit Exchange Complains About High Rates.

Washington, May 9.—Existing freight rates on Florida citrus fruits and pineapples were attacked today before the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Florida Fruit & Vegetable Shippers' Protective Association. The complaint was directed against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and 193 other carriers in the territory north and west of Florida. It is alleged that the present rates do not conform to the rates previously indicated by the commission as reasonable.

A MOTHER'S DUTY

It is the duty of every expectant mother to prepare her system for the coming of her little one; to avoid as far as possible the suffering of such occasions, and endeavor to pass through the crisis with her health and strength unimpaired. This she may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for exernal application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and a benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much valuable information.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Come on, May

The man who has an overcoat will hardly be able to "soak" it before June.

The patience woman who stays at home and keeps house in face of numerous obstacles is a heroine who deserves considerable cash—and a medal on the side.

Governor Woodrow Wilson is speaking to Western people who have heard Col. Roosevelt speak at different tiems. The principal thing they will notice is th contrast.

Some editors think Woodrow Wilson is talking too much. It is not that he is talking too much, but that he talks about some things some editors can't get around.

The Jacksonville Times-Union philosopher remarks: "Man gives woman latitude in dress." It pains us to add that some men give woman nothing but latitude and let the woman furnish the dress.

Stop-overs on railroad tickets throughout the South would be a great piece of publicity for Southern railroads. It would make traveling more attractive, because travelers could then see the country.

The most fun Champ Clark has is in seeing the Republicans in the minority. The Republican party got the hock end of the National "recall" and naturally the "recall" doesn't look good to any of its victims.

The Charleston News and Courier announces that, owing to the advanced season, it will for the present cease its vain efforts to give fame to the Charleston waffle. It will some day crop out that the News and Courier simply displayed a fondness for tackling a tough proposition.

The Lexington Dispatch has celebrated the 29th year of its existence. It has lived a useful life and gets better as its grows older. It is not only a big asset for Davidson county, but for all the surrounding counties. Editor H. B. Varner has made it the mouth-piece of progress. It leads and pulls in the right direction all the time.

Says the Des Moines Tribune: "Edna Goodrich may not make a fortune out of her book, but if it deters any woman from marrying her ex-husband she will probably feel repaid." That is hardly possible, for Nat can take chances on the fact that thousands of women will never read Edna's side of the story. At the same time he might write a sequel to Edna's book.

Wilmington's chief asset is its ocean navigation. The 30-foot channel project will increase that asset, and while Congress makes the appropriation for it the National Rivers and Harbors Congress is the one powerful American organization that has emphasized water transportation and helped Wilmington as a port. Wilmington should always stand by the Rivers and Harbors Congress. Its work has only begun.

The colonization enterprise announced in The Star's Whiteville correspondence yesterday will bring homeseekers to Eastern North Carolina. Minneapolis, Minn., capitalists chartered as the Dixie Land Company, will develop and settle 15,000 acres of land near Clarendon, Columbus county. These farms companies will bring settlers to this country, while Wilmington's water and rail destributing facilities will be sure to bring manufacturing enterprises to the city.

INCREASING PORT FACILITIES.

A few days ago The Star pointed out the proven result of proper facilities for handling commerce, citing the Champion Compress and Warehouse as the one great factor in enabling Wilmington to become the fourth cotton port of the world as to exports. Galveston ranks first, New Orleans second, Savannah third, and Wilmington fourth. By the way, the customs fiscal year will not end till June 30th, yet during the ten months just ended the exports from Wilmington have been nearly $8,000,000 more than for the entire year last season. The exports will push $30,000,000 this year.

This growing export business is the result of Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son's superior facilities for handling cotton, and no amount of enterprise and business ability would avail were it not for Wilmington's unrivalled compress treminals with their slips for ocean steamers and their railroad sidetracks connecting with five railway lines extending into all portions of the country.

What the compress facilities have done for the export business of Wilmington, the Seaboard Air Line terminals have done for the import growth of the port. The Seaboard's improved dock facilities and five hugh warehouses have caused an immense increase in the commerce of the port, and the fact is the facilities thus afforded have brought about such a steady increase of shipping with foreign centres that the Seaboard terminals have been taxed to take care of it.

Of course, that increase of shipping for the port and freight for the railroad calls for a further enlargement of those terminals. This accounts for the publication in the news columns in The Star yesterday of the report that the Seaboard Air Line had decided to enlarge its terminals so that its slips can accommodate nine large steamships at one time. The sixth large warehouse is also contemplated in the near future, and as a matter of fact, it may as well be announced that the Seaboard will keep on enlarging its terminals as fast as the business grows. That is what the railroad is in business for, but we must not fail to emphasize the point that this growth in business has been created by the enterprise of the Seaboard Air Line. The proper terminal facilties did the business and it should be particularly noted that the railroad management had faith enough in Wilmington to invest in the costly terminals that have proven such an asset for the transportation lines and the port.

Wilmington's import business this year will be the greatest in the history of the port, and consequently the raw material imported has resulted in causing a tremendous growth in manufacturing, principally in fertilizers. At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce the necessity for increased warehouse facilities was discussed, and while that topic was under consideration Collector of the Port B. F. Keith said the custom house this season had to turn away $3,000,000 of imports for lack of warehouse facilities. That clearly emphasizes the demand for more warehouse terminals, and that justifies the railroads as well as private capital in furnishing the facilities that will keep Wilmington's commerce growing.

Overtaxed terminal facilities and the turning away of commerce for lack of warehouse accommodations on the water front, shows how the port of Wilmington is growing. More than anything else, it should accelerate tion on the question of voting a bond issue of $200,000 for municipally owned terminals on the harbor front. Let us be equal to the growing demands of the port.

WILMINGTON FOR FACTORIES.

The other day The Star began discussing "What is a Town Good For?" Wilmingtonians must find out what Wilmington is good for and develop city's possibilities on the line of its the city's possibilities. We emphasized our port and distributing advantages for a commerce that can be largely increased. Of course, it is apparent that we can and must do an immense amount of work to increase our commerce.

While ocean and inland navigation for 400 miles, together with its fine railroad facilities, makes Wilmington a splendid distributing point, emphasizing its possibilities for commerce, The Star wants to point out the fact that the same conditions open up great possibilities for manufacturing. When a place is a distributing point it logically is the natural location for industries. Manufacturing demands the very best distributing facilities and those Wilmington possesses in the way of ocean navigation, river navigation and railroad transportation.

Factories need water and rail facilities for securing raw material and for shipping the finished product. Wilmington has these as no other South Atlantic port has, and investigation will prove that conclusively. Several fertilizer factories on the water front where they get raw material by the shipload, and from which they distribute their finished product by rail into several States, constitute all the evidence needed to demonstrate the advantages of a distributing point for manufacturing purposes. This holds good in the manufacture of fertilizers and it holds good in many other industrial particulars.

Manufacturers do not alone consider free factory sites and remitted or low taxes. Transportation is the one big item with them, as it is in every other line, and without distributing facilities a thousand-acre free factory site wouldn't be worth a shuck for manufacturing purposes. Factory sites and low taxes, without distributing facilities, constitute no inducement for the industrial captain but it's distributing facilities he is after.

Wilmington can, therefore boost her commercial and manufacturing advantages, and she can confidently give publicity to them in building up commerce and industries. The Atlantic ocean, our waterways and our railways make the possibilities for commerce and industries, while the fine tracking and farming region around us offers all the inducements for home seekers. Publicity on these lines—commerce, industries and settlers—is bound to have results. No city we know of can equal Wilmington in any advantage for making a city, for Wilmington's advantages cover just about all the possibilities under the sun.

The work of advertising and developing these possibilities will be a tremendous task for all the men of Wilmington—not a few, but all. Therefore, every live man in Wilmington should get in harness to work. The Cahmber of Commerce will furnish the harness and the work, and it behooves every live man to join that body at once. The membership fees are graded to suit three classes of members.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S ULTIMATUM.

President Taft has staked all on reciprocity with Canada, and, speaking from a political point of view, he is up against it hard. He has his party leaders engaged in the fight against him, and he cannot count surely upon the people. In the first place, if he wins it will be a Democratic victory, provided reciprocity turns out to be anything worth mentioning, and if reciprocity loses he will be in the same boat with the Democrats in Congress.

President Taft has laid down his ultimatum to the farmers, for in Washington on Monday he told a delegation of Northwestern farmers that even if he loses the farmer vote he intends to carry out his reciprocity agreement with Canada. Of course, the President can't afford to take the back track, for it would demonstrate his weakness, but when he boldly asserts that he is willing to lose the Presidency rather than to play politics, he is beginning to look like A Man. However, if he wins, he will lose to the Democrats.

The campaign for a bigger Chamber of Commerce is making progress, the gratifying announcement having been made in The Star yeterday that already 60 applicants for membership have been received. If you haven't sent in your name do so at once. This movement means more for Wilmington than anything yet undertaken.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is encouraging to know that many counties are going ahead with road building even if all of these projected highways fall through.—Durham Herald.

After 36 years the Philadelphia police have a clue to the lost Charley Ross—and yet a whole lot of Philadelphians think their city isn't at all slow.—York Dispatch.

The Wilmington Star says: "After a man acquires $1,000,000 he can save it better by making himself unpopular." And he can make himself unpopular by saving it. So there you are.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

A Maryland preacher sat in a poker game "for the experience" and lost $50, but he doubtless acquired a few phrases which, properly injected into his sermons, will aid in keeping the male portion of his congregation awake.—Des Moines Tribune.

Wilmington's new city council has already excited criticism because its first session was screened from the view of interested citizens. The chief criticism offered is that it is a new custom—and, still, that is just what the people voted—for something new.—Greensboro News.

Charges are being made that a majority of the city commissioners promised to repeal the Sunday closing ordinance. The new charter repealed everything. What's the use of further repealing? "It's done an done". Of course, they might pass a new one, but will they?—Greensboro Record.

The railroads charge $2.30 a ton for hailing coal to Durham, but if it goes to East Durham, the road that hauled it to Durham gets only $1.70, while the road that carries it the other mile and a half receives sixty cents. It is not, of course, explained why the roads could not make a rate of $1.70 to this town.—Durham Herald.

Mr. Edison prophesies that within a few years geography will be taught in the schools by means of moving pictures. A picture machine, he predicts, will be a part of the equipment of every school. Perhaps this is the solution of the moving picture problem that now disturbs school authorities. Get the picture into the schools and the children will avoid them on the outside.—Indianapolis Star.

When half a dozen corporations controlling 30,000,000 acres carrying 300,000,000 tons of coal and a capitalization around the billion dollar mark dare announce a consolidation in the public prints, we may be allowed to ask whether the lawyers have concluded the statute is worthless, or will not be enforced.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

It is probable that the experience of Greensboro with the recall may be a repetition of that of Tacoma. The Pacific coast city has already had four recall elections, resulting in the retirement of a mayor and four commissioners, and a fifth election has been scheduled to keep the ball moving. It seems that under the recall, a new election can be held under petition of a certain per cent. of citizens. In Greensboro the percentage is 25. Obviously, it is easy to get 25 per cent. of the people of a town to sign any sort of a petition, especially one aimed at the ruling members of an administration. In the Greensboro case the new administration is charged with having violated the charter in holding a secret session. Wherefore, petitions, it is said, are being circulated for another election. Greensboro might simplify matters by coming to an understanding to swap mayors and commissioners every month, so that during the term provided for by its commission form of government, all of its ambitious citizens may have had a whack at municipal management.—Charlotte Chronicle.

At no time in its history has Raleigh shown more of a spirit of progress than at the present, there being not alone talk of things to bring prosperity, but work along this line, which has produced good fruit. Without exaggeration it can be said that in the past two years Raleigh has done more things to entitle it to prosperity than in any other time in its history. But Raleigh is entitled to greater things and it has in it the men of enterprise, who have faith in Raleigh's future, who are ready to get back of any movement which means for the betterment of the city. Like all other cities it has problems to face, but it is facing these with confidence in itself and with the determination to solve them for the best interests of all the people. Recently Raleigh has shown that in any great work its citizens can "get together" and push such work to a successful completion. This is the spirit that has been needed in the Capital City—a spirit of co-operation, of united effort—for with this behind it there is nothing which will keep the city from growing and from expanding in its material interest.—Raleigh News and Observer.

COMMENCEMENT SEASON.

Bishop Rondthaler and Dr. Foster to Speak—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 9.—Bishop Edward Rondthaler, of Salem, has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual sermon before the Y. M. C. A. of Oxford Seminary, which is given every year in connection with the commencement exercises of the school. The commencement will be held May 21-22.

Rev. J. H. Foster, D. D., of Wilmington, will preach the baccalaureate sermon at 11 A. M. Sunday, May 21st, and on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock Bishop Rondthaler will preach. Monday, May 22nd, the class day exercises will occur, and also an art reception and annual concert will be held.

The Tinsley Military Institute will close a most successful second year on June 2nd. Just what exercises will be held in connection with the closing has not yet been definitely determined upon, but will be announced later. The Tinsley Military Institute was started two years ago in the building on the corner of West Fourth and Cherry streets, with a small number of students, and was later removed to the building in Salem formerly occupied by the Salem Boys' School. There are about 60 students now, and the future for the school is very encouraging. The school is doing splendid work, and the Twin-City may well be proud of the progress it is making.

MEN'S STYLES SEEN AT SMART GATHERINGS

At gatherings of well-dressed men this season the popularity of the close-front collar is noticeable. Everywhere you go you see it worn by those who pay the most careful attention to their attire. When you consider the smart effect that this collar gives, the preference it has over other styles is easily accounted for.

The trouble of buttoning this collar has been done away with since the manufacturers of the LION Brand introduced the "easy slip-over" button-hole. The wearer no longer has to fuss to keep it close, as these same makers have also perfected the patented "lock-front" that can't spread. These are exclusive LION Collar features and the most popular styles that have them are EXPLORER, ALCO and CLIMAX.

JACKSONVILLE IS CHOICE.

For Next Meeting of League of German Societies.

Atlanta, May 9.—Jacksonville, Fla., was chosen today as next year's meeting place of the South Atlanta League of German Societies. With the exception of secretary all the old officers were re-elected. Fred Bachmann was chosen to fill that office in place of Henry Jensen. Both are from Jacksonville. Societies in Chattanooga, Nashville and Columbus, O., were presented for membership in the League and probably will be accepted The Saengerfest came to a close tonight.

Richmond, Va., May 9.—In the case of John H. Farmer, the Nottoway lumber man, who sued Governor Mann for $10,000 for alleged breach of contract in acting as his counsel and then serving in a similar capacity for opposing interests, the State Supreme Court of Appeals today unanimously refused the plaintiff the writ of error, which had been asked for. This ends the case.

SHE WAS ALMOST CRAZY

Pitiful Tale of Rachel E. Mercer, With a Happy Ending—Due to Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

Herford, W. Va.—"For about four years," writes Rachel E. Mercer, of this place, 'I had suffered from female troubles.

"I would have the headache, for a week at a time, until I would be nearly crazy. I had fainting spells and pains in my side. In fact, I was not able to work at all.

"A neighbor recommended Cardui, so I tried it and the first bottle helped me. I continued its use, and now I never suffer with the headache any more.

"I know that Cardui will help every suffering woman. It has done more for me than any medicine I ever took."

While of especial benefit to women suffering from female ailments, Cardui may also be taken by all women, for general weakness, lassitude and debility.

Its action is that of a real tonic, more especially adaptable to women, and its building, strengthening action is so positive, that good results are often noticed as in the case of Miss Rachel Mercer, after taking the first bottle.

Your druggist will recommend Cardui if you ask him.

UNITED STATES COURT BEGINS

Spring Term of Two Weeks Convened Yesterday Morning, Judge H. G. Connor Presiding—Whiskey Cases Heard.

With Judge H. G. Connor, of Wilson, presiding, the regular Spring term of the United States District and Circuit Courts convened in the Federal building in this city yesterday morning. The first of the term is being devoted to matters on the criminal docket and splendid progress was made yesterday in the disposition of whiskey cases from Columbus and Cumberland counties. Cases from Robeson county will be heard first today.

Judge Connor's charge to the grand jury was not long, but was able and comprehensive. The charge was concluded about 11 o'clock when the jurors retired to begin their work. Mr. James H. Chadbourn, of this city, is foreman of the grand jury and other members are: L. Stein, R. M. Murray and J. A. Munn, New Hanover county; G. W. Hester, E. H. Thompson and F. T. Burney, Bladen county; Geo. T. Sutton and S. B. Newton, Duplin county; A. H. Paddison and J. A. Rowe, Pender county; Owen Fryar and L. J. King, Sampson county; D. L. McGoogan and E. L. McCormac, Robeson county; Angus Fairley and J. T. John, Jr., and R. R. Covington, Scotland county.

Submissions were received in a number of cases charging retailing and illicit distilling. The severest pimishment given during the day was meted out to Lloyd Duncan, of Columbus, who was charged with both retailing and distilling, and was sentenced to two years in the Federal prison in Atlanta and to pay a fine of $100. Morriss Norden, of Columbus, was fined $100 and costs. Geo. R. Grice, an ex-soldier at Fort Caswell, charged with selling whiskey without license to a soldier at the fort, entered a plea of guilty, and judgment was suspended upon payment of costs. It will be recalled that Grice was given preliminary hearing before Commissioner Harriss here some weeks ago. In the case against Albert Marlow, a white man of Columbus, charged with retailing, judgment was suspended and the defendant discharged. Judgment was suspended upon payment of costs in the case against J. C. Williamson, of Columbus, charged with retailing.

Wm. Godwin, a respectable looking negro of Columbus county, was called to answer the charge of retailing and illicit distilling. Asked whether or not he was guilty, the defendant said that he was not guilty of making whiskey but that he had sold the witness against him some whiskey for medicinal purposes, the witness, Wesley Powers, a white man, having represented himself as being very ill and seriously in need of a little whiskey to bring him around. Powers testified that he bought some whiskey from the defendant two times and each time told the defendant that he was not feeling well and the whiskey would do him much good. Judge Connor gave the defendant 30 days in jail and a fine of $100, but stated that if the defendant could pay the amount of the fine and costs, he would remit the sentence.

James Canady, colored, of Fayetteville, pleaded not guilty to the charge of retailing without license. Cannady is a young black negro, and is apparently a little above the average in intelligence. There were several witnesses against the defendant, but only one, Robt. Atkins, a white man, was present to testify. One of the witnesses, another white man, was in Wilmington, but got drunk during the day and at the time of the trial of the case was in the city prison. Judge Connor said that he was troubled considerably last term with witnesses getting drunk and that hereafter he would imprison for 30 days witnesses who came here and got drunk and were not able to appear when the cases were called. Atkins testified that on a Sunday he and several others bought a large quantity of whiskey from the negro and that he had purchased whiskey from him at various other times. In reply to a direct question asked him by the negro defendant, the witness admitted that he himself is under bond for his appearance in the State courts to answer to a charge of selling whiskey.

The negro testified in his own behalf that he had never sold the witness Atkins any whiskey, but that he had bought whiskey from Atkins. On one occasion the negro said he bought a pint of what was purported to be whiskey from Atkins, but which was not whiskey, being some kind of a chemical mixture not fit to drink. The negro said that he refused to pay Atkins the 50 cents charged for the so-called whiskey and that because he did not pay the amount Atkins "informed" on him to the revenue officers.

There were only two witnesses, Atkins for the government and the defendant in his own behalf. Judge Connor said to the jury: "You have heard the testimony. May be you can tell how it is; I am sure I cannot. You have heard the evidence, gentlemen; if you are satisfied that the government's witness was telling the truth, then you find the defendant guilty; but if you find that the defendant is telling the truth, it will be your duty to return a verdict of not guilty. After being out only a few minutes a verdict of not guilty was returned.

George Hales, an 18-year-old white youth, of Fayetteville, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of selling whiskey, while his brother, Walter Hales, said that he himself was guilty in a way and in another way he was not guilty. The witness against George Hales testified that the boy sold whiskey in order to provide for his invalid mother, who died about two months ago, and that otherwise the boy was a model youth. Judge Connor said that he would give the boy a chance and suspended judgment, the boy being released. Walter Hales was found to be guilty of the charge preferred against him and was given six months in the Cumberland county jail.

THE N. C. LUTHERAN SYNOD

The number had reached 50 yesterday evening and quite a number arrived on the late Seaboard train last night with still others to arrive on the morning trains today. Closing Vesper Service.

After the vesper service a reception to the delegates will be tendered by the Dorcas Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and the members of the society of the congregation will meet and greet the visitors. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mr. M. G. Tiencken, vice president of the city council.

Growth of Synod.

The Synod was organized in Salisbury, May 2nd, 1803. Four Lutheran pastors, Revs. Arends, Storch, Miller and Henkel, together with 14 lay delegates, constituted the first convention. St. Paul's of this city, was its first city missionary undertaking. Dr. G. H. Cox, who has served the Synod for many years in various pastorates, has made the following comporative table between the last meeting of this Synod in Wilmington and the meeting today. In 1874 the Synod numbered 41 congregations, now its numbers 67, an increase of 63 per cent. In 1874 the Synod was served by 18 pastors, today there are 50 pastors in its service, an increase of 163 per cent. In 1874 there were 4,201 confirmed members at the close of 1910 there were 8,977, an increase of 113 per cent. During the year 1874 the money raised in the Synod for all purposes was $59.67; during 1910 the amount was $71,026.60, an increase of 19,655 per cent.

This morning the Synod will be received by the members of St. Paul's through last year's delegates to Synod, Mr. A. D. Wessell, who will introduce the visitors to the elders and members of the church council, and the committeemen. Homes have been provided for all the visitors. The reception committee has handled the incoming delegations with system and pleasure.

Will Meet Promptly.

Attention of the delegates and others is called to the fact that the sions of Synod will meet promptly at 10 o'clock and all are urged to be present promptly at that hour.

Yesterday morning there was a meeting of the executive committee at which the programme for the several services were arranged and other routine business was transacted.

Steamer Being Repaired.

The steamer Wilmington, which was disabled while making the trip down the river Monday, is being repaired at Southport and will probably be ready to make the regular trips today. A new shaft was sent down to her Monday afternoon and has been placed in position. The launch Mohawk made the mail trip for the steamer Wilmington to Southport yesterday.

MR. ISAAC BEAR PASSES AWAY

Senior Member of Firm of Morris Bear & Bros., and Esteemed Citizen of Wilmington—End Came at 8:15 O'clock.

Not with surprise, but with a sense of deep regret will come to the community this morning the announcement of the death of Mr. Isaac Bear, senior member of the wholesale dry goods firm of Messrs. Morris Bear & Bros., and one of Wilmington's most capable and highly esteemed business men.

Surrounded by relatives and friends, of whom he had a host in this city, the end came at a quarter past eight o'clock last night at his home, No. 603 Chesnut street, after a lingering illness during which Mr. Bear and those who watched so tenderly at his bedside, knew that it was but a question of time until he should be called hence. He had been a great sufferer for months with an intestinal trouble and last October went to Baltimore, where he remained until February under the care of the most celebrated specialists in the country, but they were powerless to stay the ravages of a complication of diseases that were making slow but certain inroads upon his constitution. Only the remarkable fortitude and the beautiful resignation which characterized the later days of his illness prolonged his life as long as it was. For the past several days Mr. Bear had hardly been able to recognize the devoted brother and friends who had so constantly and lovingly ministered to him and Sunday it was known that the end was very near. The announcement of the death last night, while not unexpected was a very sad realization to relatives and friends.

Isaac Bear was a son of the late Meyer Bear and Mina Bear, of sainted memory, and was born in Baltimore November 25th, 1852, being, therefore in the 59th years of his age at the time of his death. When a mere child he moved with his parents to this city and had lived here practically ever since, taking a prominent stand in the business life of the community and being recognized until the last as one of Wilmington's staunchest, safest and most conservative business men. At the time of his death he was senior member of the large wholesale dry goods firm of Morris Bear & Bros., which business was organized by his brother, Morris Bear, who died in 1888, leaving as members of the firm, Messrs. Isaac and Sam Bear, Jr., the last named being now the only surviving member of the immediate family. The firm does an immense business all over the Carolinas and in other States and in the death of Mr. Bear, not only will many Wilmington friends feel a sense of deep personal loss, but all over the country there will be genuine regret at his passing. In the wholesale centres of trade in the North Mr. Bear was also well known and held in universally high esteem.

He was a man of genial, kindly disposition, yet retiring and modest in his nature. His charity was large and his benefactions many, but not ostentatious. A true friend, a man of the highest honor and strictest integrity, he was indeed a valuable asset to any community in which he lived. His judgment was sound upon any question, the solution of which he essayed, his counsel was frequently sought. He was a man of the deepest convictions, but never intruded his views and opinions upon others. He lived an exemplary life and leaves the glorious heritage of a good name to those who will come after him. The devotion, the remarkable friendship and love that existed between him and his only living brother, Mr. Sam. Bear, was indeed like that of Damon and Pythias and to the surviving brother the tenderest sympathy of the entire community will go out in this, the hour of his great sorrow.

The fraternal spirit in Mr. Bear was strong and he was a member of a number of orders and organizations, despite his preference rather for service in the ranks. He was a member of North State Lodge, B'Nai Brith, of this city, and was a Past Grand President of the District Grand Lodge, B'Nai Brith, which position he held only a few years ago with marked distinction to himself and with credit to the large order which he represented. He was a member of the board of trustees of the B'Nai Brith Orphanage in Atlanta, Ga., and of the National Home for Consumptives at Denver, Col. He was also a member and a senior warden of Wilmington Lodge No. 395, A. F. & A. M., and at one time served as a member of the board of directors of the Masonic Temple Corporation in this city. He was a member of Wilmington Lodge No. 532, B. P. O. E., and had been a member of the board of directors and for several terms secretary and treasurer of the Temple of Israel, with the congregation of which he worshipped until the end.

It has been stated that he was a man of large charity but that these were the sweeter for their unostentation. With his brother, Mr. Sam. Bear, he erected the splendid Morris Bear Memorial building at the James Walker Memorial Hospital in this city and this will stand in this community a lasting monument to his beneficence.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery in this city. A number of friends from a distance will arrive today to attend the obsequies. Among those already here is a cousin, Mr. H. J. Mayer, of New York, who is pleasantly remembered as having been formerly a law partner of ex-Mayor A. G. Ricaud, now of this city, and of the late Sol. Weil. Mr. Mayer came on account of the critical illness of his cousin and was with him when the end came.

Interested in Wrightsville.

Capt. C. D. Maffitt returned yesterday from a pleasure trip through Georgia, where he spent some time in Atlanta, Savannah and the other principal cities of that State. He says that the people are very much interested in Wrightsville Beach throughout that section. He stated that Georgia visitors to the beach this Summer will more than likely be greater than ever, as the people are delighted with their former visits to the North Carolina resort.

CONSIDER MINOR MATTERS

The City Council in Session for an Hour Yesterday Afternoon—First Open Session—Meeting Tomorrow.

What may properly be termed the first open meeting of the City Council, the governing body of the city under the commission plan, was that yesterday afternoon, although this was the fourth meeting of the Councilmen since induction into office Saturday at noon. The Council was in session for an hour yesterday and only matters of minor importance were considered. It is not thought probable that the Council will try to hold any more meetings at which representatives of the press are excluded, though caucuses and conferences on various matters may be held from time to time.

The meeting yesterday was called to order at 4 o'clock by Mayor Joseph D. Smith, and in attendance were all members of the Council, the clerk, Capt. Thos. D. Meares, and Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau. Mr. John R. Smith, whose company is conducting a carnival at Fourth and Castle streets, appeared before the Council with reference to city taxes for his shows during the week. He had already paid $50, but the balance had not been paid because some question had arisen as to what was the balance. Council decided to charge only $100 tax for the week and Mr. Smith paid the other $50.

Mayor Smith brought to the attention of Council several minor matters. He said that he wanted the Council to say whether or not ice cream venders, etc., would be required to pay the license tax as required by the tax ordinance. It was the sense of the board that there should be no exceptions to the operation of the law. It was ordered that W. B. James be permitted to move a house on a street provided he give bond in the sum of $500 to protect the city against any damage that might occur on account of the blocking of the street.

It is very likely that the existing city ordinances will be codified at an early date by Assistant City Attorney Peschau. This is something that was urged upon the old administration, but no action was ever taken.

A communication was read stating that Mr. Richard B. Watrous, of Washington, D. C., secretary of the American Civic Association, will spend Saturday of this week in Wilmington, coming here from Lumberton, and will likely address a gathering at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the Council were cordially invited to attend the meeting and meet Mr. Watrous. It is likely that the meeting will be held in the afternoon and that practically all members of Council will attend. Mr. Watrous will leave on the evening train for Washington.

The bond of Chief of Police John J. Fowler, for $1,000 for the faithful performance of his duties, was received and accepted. The bill of Capt. Louis S. Belden, for three days' service since the expiration of the life of the Street Commission, of which he was chairman, was allowed, Councilman B. C. Moore casting the only vote against payment of the bill. Application for license to conduct a restaurant on Kidder's alley was referred to the chief of police for investigation and report. A communication was received from Capt. J. W. Harper, owner and master of the steamer Wilmington, asking that he be rented the foot of Princess street at $10 a month. Captain Harper agreed to keep the wharf open for fire apparatus, etc., at all times. The proposition will be considered later. A number of applications have been received for the various positions which have not yet been filled, but action on them was postponed. Councilman P. Q. Moore was authorized to employ a special engineer to establish the grade in front of property of Dr. Wright Hall, who contemplates putting down an improved sidewalk right away, having the material already on the ground. The election of a regular city engineer will probably be considered at the next meeting. It is said that there are six applicants for the office. The next meeting will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. At this meeting the salaries of the City Clerk and Treasurer, Tax Collector, Chief of Police, and other officers will be fixed. It is not likely that the salaries of either will be increased; certainly not to any considerable extent. There being no further business before the Council, adjournment was taken at 5 o'clock until 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

HONOR CONFEDERATE DEAD

Memorial Day Exercises Will be Held At Oakdale Cemetery This Afternoon as Usual—Splendid Programme Arranged.

This is Memorial Day and throughout the South the memory of the Confederate dead will be honored and their graves will be decorated with beautiful flowers. Exercises will be held appropriate to the occasion. As in years gone by, pretty and impressive exercises will be held this afternoon at Oakdale cemetery under the auspices of Cape Fear Chapter, No. 2, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the graves of the old soldiers will be prettily decorated. The arrangements for the observance have been completed.

There will be the usual procession of military and Confederate organizations from the lodge in the cemetery to the base of the Confederate monument on the grounds at 4:30 o'clock, and the exercises will follow from an improvised stand within the enclosure of the monument. The following is the programme as arranged:

"Music," "They Sleep," by J. H. Nunn, the choir.
Prayer by the chaplain, Rev. Wm. E. Cox.
"For all the Saints, who from their labors rest."
Introduction of orator, Chief Marshal, G. J. Boney.
Address, Rev. J. W. Plowden.
Reading of Roll of Honor, Mr. G. J. Boney.
"Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers," by E. F. Stewart.
Presentation of Cross of Honor.
Hymn, "Soldiers of Christ Arise!"
Doxology.
Benediction, Rev. Wm. E. Cox.

The orator of the day is Rev. J. M. Plowden, a well known and able minister of this city, and a most pleasing speaker. Mr. G. J. Boney is chief marshal; Rev. Wm. E. Cox, chaplain, and Mr. E. H. Munson musical director. The choir will be composed of Mrs. Cameron MacRae, Mrs. Jas. B. Fenley, Mr. J. B. Fenley, Mr. Cecil Butt and Mr. E. C. Craft, cornetist. Mr. Greene Fenley was to have sung in the choir, but he was unexpectedly called away from the city on business and his place will be filled by Mr. J. B. Fenley. The following is the committee in charge of the arrangements for the day: Mrs. T. E. Sprunt, Mrs. Gabriel Holmes, Mrs. J. H. Bunting, Miss Julia James and Miss Lilly Brown.

The public is cordially invited to attend the exercises and as usual the crowd will doubtless be large. There will be a pretty general observance of the day in Wilmington.

Delightful Outing Yesterday.

Members of the Sunday School of Immanuel Presbyterian church were guests yesterday afternoon of the Tidewater Power Company for their annaul outing at Wrightsville Beach. There were about 200 children in the party and the afternoon was most delightfully spent. The children went down on special cars leaving Front and Princess streets at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and after spending a most pleasant afternoon at Lumina, returned to the city about 7 o'clock. Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of the church, accompanied the party on the trip.

RETURNED TO DELAWARE.

B. W. Conoway Goes Back With Officer to Answer Serious Charge.

B. W. Conoway, a white man, arrested here some days ago, left last night in the custody of Mr. Frederick Walls, of the Delaware State Detective Force, for Felaware, where he will answer the serious charge of being implicated in a recent bribery case during an election in that State. It is alleged that he offered to give a man $10 for his vote. The warrant was sworn out before Justice Harriss and served by Constable Savage some two weeks ago. Conoway at first agreed to return without extradition papers, but later he decided that he would put the authorities to all the trouble possible. Detective Walls arrived yesterday morning. He had a communication from Attorney General A. C. Gray, of Delaware, addressed to Magistrate Harriss, and stated that while the proper requisition papers had not been finished, it was hoped that Conoway would agree to return with the detective, who had the proper authority to assume charge of the defendant.

Conoway agreed to accompany the officer and they left on the 7 o'clock train last night.

"Forgiveness Is Sweet."

Beautiful story by Pathe Co., Grand Theatre today. **

..Theatrical..

At the Bijou.

The Bijou's usual big and up-to-date bill will be featured today by the Gaumont Company's greatest film creation, "A Priestess of Carthage." This moving picture will be one of the greatest of its kind every offered anywhere. The scenes of the photoplay are laid in the ancient city of Carthage, the time being about 150 B. C., and the film is most valuable from a historical standpoint. It also bristles with stirring action and thrilling scenes, while the protography presented is really wonderful. Pictures of the Temple of the Moon and Sun and of the palace and the tent in the wilderness are marvelously realistic. Among the other films is "Hungry Hearts," which is described as a comedy drama. Besides the big moving picture programme the Bijou will offer a new bill of the latest musical numbers, including a superb song by Mr. Frank Banks, whose singing is such a popular feature.

Grand Theatre.

The management regretted exceedingly their inability to present the Camorrists' trial as advertised yesterday. The train bearing this film missed connection and for that reason Grandites were disappointed. The film is a costly affair and its failure to show up caused a big loss to both parties. The management does not like to advertise and then not live up to same, but in this case it could not be helped. As soon as this great picture can be obtained Grandites will be given an opportunity to witness it. Today's bill is full of more good things, one of the powerful offerings being the very latest Biograph production, "In the Days of '49." This is a picture depicting the times of the gold fever. The scenes are laid in the West and the story unfolded is a powerful dramatic one. Another picture is "Forgiveness is Sweet," a Pathe film, and lastly a great colored picture of scenes along the Mekong. Mr. Baldwin has selected the great Japanese song hit "Hanako," and the orchestra will play a new programme. Doors open at 2 P. M.

Joyland.

The programme for today is full of features from start to finish. The feature film will be "From a Miser to a Man," a film of unusual merit. This will be followed by a big double comedy that will give you sixty laughs to the minute. Mr. Reilly will have on for tonight that big success, "Who Were You With Tonight," which is a big novelty song with a very catchy air, and is sure to please. Doors open from 2:30 to 11 P. M., with a complete change of programme every day.

Crystal Palace.

Two new pictures will be shown today, one an excellent drama, the other a good comic subject, "The Transgressor" and "Man or Maid." Mr. Ceo. Moskey, the excellent young violinist will appear for his last time today. The solos he renders are brilliant and artistic and have been greatly enjoyed by the many patrons. Mr. Welton, the eccentric dancing comedian, performs today only also, an entire change of programme will be made tomorrow, making two sets of performers at the Palace this week. All music lovers who have not yet heard young Moskey, will enjoy his solos this afternoon and tonight. 3:30, 4:30 and 8 to 11.

COTTON TOUCHES HIGH MARK

Market Closed Steady, Prices Seven Points Higher to One Point Lower—Spot Closed Ten Points Higher.

New York, May 9.—Another set of new high records for the season were made by old crop months in the cotton market today, but new crop positions responded only partially to the strength of the near months and the market closed steady, with prices net 7 points higher to one point lower.

The opening was steady, at an advance of 2@8 point, in response to much higher cables than expected, larger English spot sales and local covering. Leading bulls seemed to be selling old crop positions on the initial advance, however, and as soon as local traders saw offerings from this source they began selling the later months owing to the favorable weather reported in the South.

Prices eased off during the early trading in consequence, but while there was no change in the general character of the news, a more active demand developed for old crop positions within a point or two of last night's closing figures, and as soon as May and July began to advance the new crop also turned steadier. The official forecasts were for generally clear weather in the South tonight and tomorrow, but the weekly report of the Weather Bureau was less favorable than anticipated, and with the semi-weekly inferior movement suggesting another big loss of stock at certain interior towns, demand became a little more general on the advance. Bulls sold freely around 15.53 for May, and 15.67 for July, and fluctuations during the afternoon were somewhat irregular, although the buying of the old crop continued right up to the close, which was only a little off from the top. New crop positions at the best showed a net gain of about 5@6 points and closed within a point or two of yesterday's final figures. Leading old crop bulls were credited with taking profits on fully 60,000 bales of May and July, during the day, while trading in this and Wall Street's shorts were believed to be heavy buyers, in some instances July sellers were reported to be buying August.

Receipts today, 12,054 bales, against 12,396 last week and 6,983 last year. For the week, 60,000, against 65,890 last week, and 56,632 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 4,665, against 1,846 last year, and at Houston, 1,353 against nil last year.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points higher, middling uplands, 15.75; do, gulf, 16.00; sales, 700 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed steady.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, May 9.—Rain in the Northwest, where drought damage had been threatened, was the main cause of a sharp decline here today in the price of wheat. DULL DAY FOR STOCKS AGAIN

Price Levels Barely Disturbed in Securities Market—U. S. Steel Was Feature—Small Gains and Losses.

New York, May 9.—With little demand for stocks except for the uses of professional traders, price levels were barely disturbed today in the securities market. The present disposition apparently is to restrict speculative activity in view of the possibility that when the Supreme Court meets next Monday decisions in the anti-trust cases may be announced.

Desultory efforts at the opening to depress prices had so little effect that traders changed their tactics and operated for a rise. The buying movement was not well sustained, although a majority of the leading issues were fractionally higher during the greater part of the day. The market closed under pressure with a mixture of small gains and losses.

United States Steel led the market, interest in this issue being kept alive by speculation as to tomorrow's monthly statement of unfilled orders. There was some evidence of short selling in this stock early in the day, in anticipation of the decrease in unfilled tonnage, which the report is expected to disclose, but offerings were taken readily and the stock held firm. News of the reduction of the Boston and Maine dividend rate did not reach Wall Street until after the market had closed. The stock of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, the controlling company which has been weak of late, declined a point today. The Boston and Maine is the second Eastern railroad to reduce its dividend rate since the Inter-State Commerce Commission refused to sanction the proposed increase in freight rates, the New York Central being the other.

There was some activity at higher prices in such Morgan issues as Southern railway, preferred, and the Eries, the movement in the latter being attended by rumors of a supposedly favorable character. The buying movements in American Can issues, which began yesterday, was continued today and both the common and preferred made further gains during the day. The Harriman stocks were ready, although the widely circulated report that Union Pacific directors were to recommend an issue of $50,000,000 common stock was denied, with the statement that no definite decision had been reached as to what steps would be taken to meet the road's financial requirements.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $3,000,000. United States bonds were unchanged, on call. Total sales, 182,500 shares.

Free for Stomach and Bowels

We are in receipt of letters from Mrs. Eva Gaskins, 304 Madison St., Topeka, Kans., and Mr. P. H. Gavellas, Wagoner, Okla., as well as many others, telling about the wonderful results they have secured in the cure of their stomach and liver troubles by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

This remedy, as all readers doubtless know, has been before the public for a generation and is now being more extensively used than any other remedy for stomach, liver and bowel complaints. According to reliable testimony, it seems to be a very quick and lasting cure for constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia, liver trouble, biliousness, headaches, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar disorders. It is a liquid with tonic effect, and so mild and gentle in action that a child as well as a grown person can take it, in fact, it has no equal for children, women and old people.

It arouses the flow of gastric juice, and by a peculiar action trains the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with. A free sample bottle can be had for trial by sending your address to the doctor, for in this way Mrs. Gaskins, Mr. Gavellas and many others first learned of the cure. Later, when satisfied it is the remedy you need, do as others are doing and buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

to count for much, inasmuch as the rebels do not promise to eliminate themselves entirely from the revolutionary movement, it is regarded as highly important in this part of the republic.

The rebels operating in Morelos and threatening Cuernavaca are for the most part Guerrero natives, under the orders of General Amorsio Fuergeroa. If the terms agreed upon prevail these men will be returned to our State, leaving Cuernavaca menaced.

It was from this quarter that Mexico City appeared to be in danger. With their removal the capital would be out of danger for several weeks at least.

It was not without skepticism, however, that the news of an agreement was received. The fiasco at Juarez, has not served to make the public eager to accept, unquestioned talk of peace in any quarter.

Madero Explains Cause.

El Paso, Texas, May 9.—Francisco I Madero, Jr., late tonight issued a tatement explaining the causes of the attack on Juarez and the conflicting interpretations, which have been put on his leadership. He attributes the attack principally to the vague promises of President Diaz in his manifesto as opposed to the precise promises of revolutionists to the Federal government.

Garrison Annihiliated.

Laredo, Texas, May 9.—That the Federal garrison at Concepcion Del Oro, Zacatecas, 80 miles south of Saltillo, was recently annihilated by rebels is the information as to the passengers arriving tonight from Mexico. Accurate information as to the number of Federal troops stationed at Concepcion Del Oro is not available, but it is known that fifty Federals left Soltillo several days ago for that place.

Another confirmed report is that Federal lieutenant and 22 o. his command were killed in the outskirts of Saltillo.

Other information by the insurrectos that they would not hereafter interfere with either the National railway wire or the Federal telegraph lines, stating that the route from Laredo to Mexico City was the only one open for the handling of messages betwen El Paso and Mexico City and that it was their desire not to impede the transmission of messages between insurrecto chiefs and Mexican officers.

Rebels Capture Tijuana.

Tijuana, Lower Cal., May 9.—Three companies of independent rebels, comprising 280 men, are encamped tonight in the buildings and streets of Tijuana. The town was taken by assault today, after a savage attack, the battle lasting from 5:30 to 9:40 o'clock. At that hour resistance ceased. The attack was a complete surprise to the Federal forces.

Conservative estimates of the dead and wounded on both sides place the number at 7, but the exact figures may not be known for a day or two. According to unofficial advices seven Americans, most of them members of the rebel band, were wounded.

The assault was made by a company of 80 men. The rest of the rebel force held the passes to Tecate and to Ensenada, east and south of Tijuana.

Out of about 100 men who were in Tijuana yesterday guarding it against attack by the rebels, 12 made their way to the American side where they surrendered to the United States troops.

There are six bodies in the main street of Tijuana. Two of them are rebels. In the underbrush and behind rocks are more wounded and dead men.

The wounded are brought in as fast as they are found and cared for by an American Red Cross party under the direction of Dr. James Jackson, of San Diego, Cal.

A bullet riddled building in Tijuana has been turned into a hospital. The wounded in the hospital number 16. Two of them will die. At the camp of the American troops, half a mile distant, there are ten other wounded men, all rebels.

The leader of the rebels, Gen. Sam Pryce, who succeeded to command when Capt. Woods was killed last night, would make no statement regarding the number of killed and wounded.

The attack was planned and executed by Pryce. His force surrounded the town on three sides and one by one the points of vantage held by the Federals were taken until a remnant of the Federals broke through to the south toward Ensenada. This contingent had been driven from the bull ring, which the rebels set on fire.

Another party driven from the customs house where the last stand was made, raced for the old Mexican school house, half a mile away, near the American line. Half of these fell killed or wounded on the way to the school house. The survivors soon made a dash for the American line, which they reached in safety. Among these was Lieut. Guerrero, of the Merican forces.

Indians Surround Capital.

Douglas, Ariz., May 9.—Hermosillo, capital of Sonora, is surrounded by several hundred Yaqui Indians, according to advices received today by courier. The Indians left haciendas along the Yaqui river several days ago to confer with Jose Mayterino, provisional governor of Sonora, who employs most of them on plantations. They did not find Mayterino in Hermosillo, but learned that the city was defended by only 300 Federal troops, commanded by Colonel Pedro Ojeda. He led the government forces during the first fight at Agua Prieta.

The Yaquis determined to besiege the town. A Southern Pacific train was held up and looted of 500 rifles and 20,000 rounds of ammunition. The Indians then surrounded the city. All telegraph wires were cut.

News of this activity was reported in a letter to the rebel junta, but was not believed until a courier reached Douglas today with details.

DEMOCRATS URGING ECONOMY.

Party Leaders Introduce Two Resolutions—Criticisms.

Washington, May 9.—Democratic harmony broke today on the rocks of economy. Acting upon the instructions of its caucus held early in the session, the party leaders brought two resolutions into the House for passage today, cutting off scores of employes, and re-arranging the basis of committee clerkships upon a more economical plan.

The first resolution, that cutting off $82,000 worth of employes, went through without much trouble. The second one, however, providing assistant clerks for several committee, broke up the Democratic ranks, but was finally passed. In the resolution was a provision on for an assistant clerk to the Committee on Territories, a new position which was eliminated from the resolution on protest of Mr. Rucker, of Missouri, whose clerk's pay had been reduced.

Representative Garner, of Texas, a Democratic member of the Committee on Accounts, assisted the Republicans in criticising this creation of an additional place.

Mr. Rucker said the trouble with the Democrats was that they were attempting "too darned much economy." Minority Leader Mann said he had been very nicely treated by the Democrats; had been given a good room, with a "pretty red carpet" in it. He had been given no janitor, however, to take care of the room.

"When I made requisition for a carpet sweeper so that I might more easily clean my pretty red carpet," said Mr. Mann, "this distinguished aggregation of economists turned it down."

Urging the reduction of the police force, Mr. Palmer, of Pennsylvania, pointed out that the government keeps 73 policemen to take care of one building in a space occupying four city blocks, while Harrisburg, Pa., with a State capitol, and 64,000 inhabitants, has a total police force of only 54 men.

RAILROAD TRAINMEN MEET.

Gather at Harrisburg, Pa., in Annual Convention—Features.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 9.—Governor Tener, in welcoming the Tenth International Convention of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen tonight, declared that he stood for "fair dealing between employers and employees and an eight-hour law for all labor."

The governor predicted the coming of the day when all disputes will be settled by arbitration. In concluding he presented to President W. G. Lee, of the trainmen, a large gilt key, emblematic of the freedom of the city.

The visiting delegates number eight hundred, from all parts of the United States and Canada.

The convention will be in session during the next two weeks. Their object is a betterment of the conditions of their employment, which they hope to accomplish through the enactment of National legislation.

One of the chief topics will be the suggestion of Federal legislation defining the employers' liability and workmen's compensation for death and injury. The trainmen take the position that the railroads should be responsible for personal mishaps to the men in their employ.

The Brotherhood paid out more than $2,000,000 last year in death and disability claims. The records show that an employee was killed or disabled every five and a half hours during the year. Since the organization was formed twenty years ago, more than $22,000,000 have been paid to the widows and orphans of the members.

The treasurer's report shows more than $2,225,000 in the treasury. The increase in the membership since the convention two years ago is more than 17,000.

JUAREZ WILL NOT FALL.

Opinion of First Secretary of Mexican Embassy—Interviewed.

New York, May 9.—"What will it mean to the Mexican government if Juarez falls?"

"Ha!" replied Carlos Pereya, the first secretary to the Mexican embassy, here tonight. "Two months ago when Gen. Crozco was before Juarez threatening the city I was asked the same question in Washington and I told the reporter to come again when Juarez fell. I am waiting for him yet."

Notwithstanding that the interview tonight was punctuated with bulletins from the battle of Juarez, telling of the invasion of the city by the insurrectos, Secretary Pereya was convinced that Juarez could not fall. "I would not be afraid to be in the city tonight," he said. "It meant nothing," he continued, "that the rebels had invaded a few sections of the city. They can never advance against the machine guns of the interior fortifications," he declared. "Though the rebels have got possession of some of the streets, they cannot take our strongholds in the church and other buildings."

When the news came that Juarez had been fired by the rebels, Secretary Pereya asked: "May that not mean that some of the soldiers of fortune have started the fire close to the riverside, thinking it may threaten El Paso and prompt the American troops to intervene?"

"Do you think that was their plan?"

"I would not want to be quoted so, but it might have been."

PITIFUL LETTER FROM TOMBS.

From Woman Who Killed Husband to "Save His Soul."

New York, May 9.—Mrs. Frances O'Shaughnessy, who murdered her husband several days ago, to "save his soul," as she explained, wrote a pitiful letter from the Tombs today, directing the priest who had married her to use her meagre savings of $140 for her husband's funeral expenses.

"I love him still," she wrote, "but please see that no flowers are accepted from ——— ———, the woman who ruined both our lives."

O'Shaughnessy was buried from an undertaking establishment today. One carriage followed the hearse.

MRS. SULLY IS SUED.

Action to Recover $20,000 Went to Trial Yesterday.

New York, May 9.—A suit brought by Peter H. Corr, a cotton goods manufacturer, against Emma F. Sully, wife of Daniel J. Sully, the former "Cotton King," to recover $20,000, which he says he loaned her when Sully's corner collapsed in the spring of 1904, went to trial here today.

Sully, testifying in his wife's behalf, gave a rather sensational version of the transactions with "Colonel" Corr, as he called him. He declared that Corr came to him on the evening of March 24, 1904, and told him that former District Attorney Jerome was about to have him (Sully) indicted as a common gambler, because of his cotton transactions, and offered to lend him the money to employ counsel. It was for this purpose, Sully swore, that Corr parted with the $20,000, and later $10,000. The money was advanced, Sully said, in checks made payable to a furniture dealer who cashed them for Sully, to avoid their seizure by Sully's creditors, and was given as a retainer to a lawyer, in case the indictment was returned, but nothing came of it.

Corr testified that while he was in Philadelphia Mrs. Sully called him on the telephone and told him she was in immediate need of $25,000, to protect the equity in the furniture in her home here. He called, he testified, and gave two checks for $10,000 each to Frank H. Potter, the furniture dealer, referred to by Sully.

Mr. Woodberry Lennon was re-elected town clerk and treasurer. TEDDY TO HUNT BEARS.

Roosevelt Agrees to Try His Luck in Greenland Next Year.

New York, May 9.—According to Capt. "Bob" Bartlett, big game hunting has more attractions for Theodore Roosevelt than the next Presidential campaign. At least that's the way the colonel sees it now. Having filled his bag with tropical fauna, the colonel plans in the Summer of 1912 to try his luck at polar bears in Greenland. Capt. "Bob", who commanded Peary's ship, the Roosevelt, on her last and successful trip, has the colonel's acceptance pledged. The captain wanted the colonel to go along this time but the colonel was too busy. "Next year," said the colonel, and Capt. Bob believes he is sure of his man, "He'll come," said the captain this afternoon, "you can take my word for it."

Resolutions Seek Probe of Postoffice Department and Sugar Trust.

Washington, May 9.—Two resolutions for important investigations of the Postoffice Department proposed by Mr. Saunders, of Virginia, to determine whether political influences are operating in the department, whether it is used for political purposes, whether the employes are discharged for political reasons and covering other features of postal operation, was authorized by the adoption of one resolution. The other, that of Mr. Hardwick, of Georgia, provides for a sweeping investigation of the American Sugar Refining Company to determine what influence it has had or is having upon the prices of sugar, or the control of competition.

COL. HIGGINSON PASSES.

Last of Group of Famous New England Scholars.

Cambridge, Mass., May 9.—Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, historian and author, minister and soldier, one of the last of the group of famous scholars and abolitionists of half a century ago, died at his home here tonight, aged 87 years.

Col. Higginson's death was due to a break down due to old age. He is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. J. D. Barney, of Boston.

Col. Higginson was almost the last of that New England coterie which included Longfellow, Whittier, Holmes, Emerson and Lowell. He was also one of the anti-slavery agitators or abolitionists with Garrison, Wendell Phillips, Edward Everett Hale and Mrs. Julia Ward Howe.

He regarded his anti-slavery work and other reforms as the most gratifying episodes of his career.

He served in the Civil War as captain of the 51st Massachusetts volunteer militia and later as colonel of the first South Carolina volunteers, Union organization, afterwards named the 33rd United States Colored troops. He was vice president of the Liberal Congress of Religion and a member of the Academy of Arts and Sciences, Royal Society of Canada and other organizations. He was author of a history of the United States, an English history for Americans, and many other publications.

Richmond, Va., May 9.—It was announced today that the field artillery, consisting of three batteries, of the Virginia volunteer force, will go into camp near Glen Allen for the week of August 12 to 19, inclusive. The Richmond Blues battalion will camp at Basic City, and the three regiments of volunteer infantry will probably have a week at Goshen.

ICE! ICE!! ICE!!!

-:-YES-:-

ICE! ICE!! and ICE!!!

One might almost be led to believe that this community had never seen Pure Ice until this good year 1911.

A great man once said "there is nothing new under the sun" and this is so to a great extent when it comes to the manufacture of ice.

Now, as a matter of fact, The Independent Ice Company has been for ten years and is still making as pure, as clean, as healthful to use ice as can be found in all North Carolina. We defy anyone to prove to the contrary. Our prices are as low as the lowest. We give full guaranteed weight. Our service is the best Wilmington ever had. We have a polite, accommodating corps of officials who will thank any one to report any act of neglect or discourtesy on the part of our wagon drivers or helpers.

Do the right thing for yourselves and for ourselves by taking ice from the old reliable.

THE INDEPENDENT ICE CO.

WHAT AGE DO YOU EXPECT TO REACH—60, 70 or 80?

If you live that long, there are likely to be some years at the latter end when you will not be able to earn a living for yourself and family.

A man's productive powers are curtailed and usually ceases entirely with old age. This makes him entirely dependent for support upon his friends or the State unless he has saved while young.

Begin to save now during the productive years of your life. Open a saving account and deposit a part of your earnings, which will keep you and yours in old age.

TURPOILINE
CHEAPER THAN TURPENTINE

It is an odorless mineral product, which possesses great solvent power for paints and varnishes, has the requisite high flash for working and the clean evaporation which leaves the coating in perfect condition.

TURPOILINE makes a free flowing varnish, free from bloom. It flat colors better than turpentine.

TURPOILINE is thorough uniform; you can be assured of receiving the same product all the time.

TURPOILINE costs less and works well.

TURPOLINE is the most satisfactory product on the market for the paint and varnish man.

Try TURPOILINE. One thorough trial will convince you.
